Door-to-Door Canvassing GOTV Script

Below is a sample door script that you can use while canvassing in the final weeks of your campaign:

Volunteer: Hi, is this [Voter Name]? Hello! I'm [Name], a volunteer with [Candidate]'s campaign. I'm just stopping by to remind you that election day is tomorrow and we're hoping you'll come out to vote for [Candidate] for [Office].

Voter: Yeah, I'm planning to vote.

Volunteer: That's great! Do you know what time you might go vote? (Morning, lunch break, evening?) [Encourage them to think about a specific time.] And do you know where your polling place is located?

Voter: I think it's the community center up the road. I'll probably swing by after work.

Volunteer: Yes, [Site] on [Street] – that's your polling site. Polls are open until [Time]. Here's a flyer with the info. [Hand them a small card or flyer with polling place and hours.] If you need a ride or any help, we have a helpline on there – don't hesitate to call. We really appreciate your support!

Voter: Thank you. I should be all set.

Volunteer: Wonderful. Thank you for being a voter – have a great day! And please remind any friends or neighbors who might forget. Every vote counts!

Canvassing Tip:
If the person already voted early or absentee: congratulate and thank them. If they are unsure or not planning to vote: quickly encourage them ("It would mean a lot to have your voice counted – local elections are so close, your vote truly makes a difference!"), but don't spend too long; leave literature and note the response for follow-up if feasible. Always be polite and thank them, even if they seem indifferent.
