How Morgan Pinnacle Group Supports Overseas Athletes

Your professional career has taken you overseas. Whether this is a new team, new country or your first time playing abroad, living in another country can be a major lifestyle adjustment, mental challenge, and survival game. MPG steps in to support athletes beyond the court, acting as a trusted operations partner for all the behind-the-scenes chaos that comes with going pro in a foreign country.

Finding & Signing With a Team

Overseas contracts can feel like rocket science with a number of potential red flags hiding in the fine print. MPG helps athletes:

- Review contracts line-by-line to identify risks and protect player rights
- Clarify critical details like pay schedules, housing, stipends, and release clauses
- Communicate professionally with agents, coaches, or team staff
- Document all agreements to avoid verbal promises that vanish mid-season

We act as a second set of eyes before you commit to any opportunity.

Before You Fly: Prep Like a Pro

MPG can help athletes organize key documents, coordinate international logistics, and pack like seasoned pros and ensure you don't land without Wi-Fi, a working SIM card, or your visa paperwork.

On Arrival: Ground Support

From scheduling your ride from the airport to managing time zone adjustments and translator tools, MPG ensures you hit the ground running and make a strong first impression with your new team.

Daily Life Support

Athletes often deal with unexpected living conditions, chaotic grocery store adventures and financial issues. MPG can:

- Coordinate apartment setup and maintenance
- Manage expenses and budgeting with tools and reminders
- Calendar management and scheduling

Admin, Communication & Money Management

MPG can take over the admin burden:

- Organize payment tracking and dispute documentation
- Manage communications with agents, coaches, and teams
- Create clean, professional documentation for contracts and legal claims

Mental Health & Personal Support

The emotional toll of living overseas is real. MPG offers:

- Scheduling with mental health professionals
- Routine planning, journaling tools, and wellness check-ins
- Coordination of appointments, language support, and life coaching

Career Management

From social media content and planning to resume building, MPG helps players:

- Stay visible with curated social posts, highlight reels, and brand development
- Plan offseason training and proactivity strategies
- Explore business ventures, podcasts, and post-hoop goals

If It Goes South…

MPG can assist with:

- Escalating payment disputes with receipts and documentation
- Coordinating exits, release letters, and final payment collection
- Emergency relocation planning if you're cut and/or find a new team mid-season
